

Kukui Nut Oil

Nuts from the kukui tree were extremely valuable to the ancient Hawaiians and were found on every island in the archipelago. They had many uses for it, from fuel for fire to ink for their tattoos. Rich in essential fatty acids, Nalu Koa incorporates kukui nut oil because of its benefits in soothing sunburned skin — in fact, researchers are continuing to find new applications in treating burns and skin care using this amazing, all-natural oil!

Spirulina

Though it is described as a blue-green algae, Spirulina is an extremely useful product. Farmed on the Big Island of Hawaii, it is a complete protein that contains all essential amino acids, which are the building blocks of proteins. Widely considered to be a superfood, Spirulina has also been used for anti-aging compounds and is taken for its anti-oxidant properties!

About Nalu Koa

Founded by Charles Gray, Nalu Koa is owned, operated and based on the Island of Maui. Nalu Koa looks to the rich flora of the state for skincare solutions. Charles, whose family left Oahu in 1954 headed for the Mainland, where he was raised and educated. He majored in business, with a strong emphasis on marketing and sales. His skills flourished within the Commercial Office Products Industry, where he spent 40 plus years in a highly competitive marketplace. He always looked forward to returning home to Hawaii to reestablish his own native roots. When he did, Gray took up residence in rural upcountry Maui to open his own company which would cater to locals and visitors alike.

The company's range of products include moisturizers, sun screens, fragrances, massage oils, insect repellents and natural sea sponges and bath accessories — using ingredients sourced from local plants or ingredients from Hawaiian companies.
